

COWBOYS GET GAY IN THIS FILM PLAY

"Sky High," Inheriting Millions, Takes Friends to Fifth Avenue Mansion.

Unexpectedly inheriting millions, "Sky High," prince of a boisterous band of western cattlemen, brings the whole bunch with him to New York. He must live in his Fifth Avenue mansion for one year and manage his estate if he shall ultimately come into his own. His cousin plots to make things so disagreeable for "Sky High" that the cowboy will return to his ranch life and surrender the fortune. Here, in a nutshell, is the outline of "Love's Lariat," to be shown in Bluebird photoplays at the Orpheum theater today with Harry D. Carey leading the company of cattlemen in their charge upon the effete East. Add the interest centering in an absorbing love incident, with Olive Fuller Golden the heroine, and you have in one film entertainment practically two complete stories—exhilarating comedy element and a stirring romance. A pictorial news and "Ashamed of the Old Folks" are the added offerings.

Tomorrow and Saturday, H. B. Warner and Euid Markey will appear in a Triangle feature called "Shell Forty-Three."

Flora Bella, a new comic opera from Vienna, was produced in its American form in New York, and received much favorable notice for both book and score. The star is Lina Abarbanel, and others with prominent roles are Charles Purcell and Lawrence Grossmith.

It is reported to be an intensely dramatic narrative centered about the eternal triangle, to which C. Gardner Sullivan, the author, has given another new twist. Miss Williams is enacting the role of a young trained nurse of Italian birth, who, being called to her native country by the war, is made the central figure in a series of adventures on the European battlefields. A new lance leading man will be introduced in the support of Miss Williams in the person of Charles Cunn, who has been engaged to enact the part of a young Austrian, who, also is compelled to leave America for Europe on account of the war.

A fantastic playlet by Eleanor Gates, called "Swat the Fly," was produced this week in New York. The characters are various animals used in experiments in a physician's laboratory and garden, and the action turns on their conferences to kill the physician in revenge. The fly proposes that the work of vengeance be left to him, as he can carry deadly germs and kill the doctor without the same danger of detection as the others would risk. The others, however, swat the fly for the treacherous suggestion.

"The Garden of Allah," which will be the attraction at the Robinson Grand for a limited engagement of only two performances September 20 is produced in four parts and nine scenes. The play gradually creates an atmosphere, which by degrees carries the audience and forces it to forget that it is looking at anything other than the fifteen years, and the convict in revenge gives him undoubted proof that his own wife, Mrs. Walton, has been a profitable "patient."

This affords a pathetic and tragic denouement. The other characters of the play are society women, a zealot of the medical profession, who sincerely and honestly believes in birth control for the poor, a girl whose life pays for the penalty of her folly, and a brokenhearted mother who, for reason of false modesty, has failed to place this girl on her guard against just such a disaster as overtakes her.

OIL AND GAS DEVELOPMENT OF TRI-STATE

Latest Reports of Operations in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Oil operators in the eastern fields are taking a more cheerful view of the general situation. The fact that the market has remained stationary for almost a month has lessened the fear of another reduction in the near future. There are those who express the opinion that the next movement will be an advance and base their opinion on the fact that efforts to increase production are not successful. The few localities that looked promising some months ago have not come up to expectations and the best that can be done at this time is to continue developing the old districts.

On Greek creek, Walton district, Roane county, W. Va., the Sidney Oil and Gas Company drilled a second test on the J. H. Cummings farm through the Big Injun sand and developed a light gasier in that formation. The location is 1,000 feet east of the same company's test on the W. R. Caldwell farm. On Laurel creek, Spencer district, the South Penn Oil Company completed number four on the C. and C. Short farm and secured a light pumper in the Big Injun sand. The same company is drilling number seven on the J. G. Greenhouse farm.

Light Pumper in Lincoln County. On Sugar Tree creek, Union district, Lincoln county, the Ohio Fuel Oil Company drilled its number eight on the Neri Keeney farm through the Berea grit and has a four-barrel pumper. In the same district the Big Creek Development Company has the rig completed for number nine on the "Eliza Curness farm."

On Sand run, Big Sandy district, Kanawha county, the Ohio Fuel Oil Company completed number sixteen on the Edward Gehhart farm, located 1,00 feet north of number fifteen, and it is a duster in the Weir sand. In the same district the same company is drilling a second test on the James A. Gross farm. Davidson and Gates are drilling a test on the R. H. Copenhaver farm.

Grove Parish have completed number four on the A. W. Smith farm, located on Indian creek, Murphy district, Ritchie county, and have a ten-barrel pumper in the Salt sand.

Southeastern Ohio. Late completions in the deep sand territory in southeastern Ohio resulted in light pumpers and dry holes. The Union Furnace district is the only section that is furnishing anything better in the deep territory.

In the Junction City district, Jackson township, Perry county, the Carter Oil Company's number five on the R. J. Snyder farm is a ten-barrel pumper in the Clinton sand. In the Bremen district, Rush Creek township, Fairfield county, the same company's number four on the Stephen Blessner farm is a very light pumper.

In the northwest quarter of section ten, Falls Gore township, Hocking county, the Griffin Producing Company completed a test on the J. R. Glass farm and it is dry. The location is one mile southwest of the test on the Jacob Salder farm.

Shallow Territory. In Grandview district, Independence township, Washington county, Holstein, Schneider and Company drilled a second test on the Catherine Yester farm through the Keener sand and it is showing for a twenty-five-barrel producer. This location is west of production and shows an extension in that direction. In Jackson township, Muskingum county, the Columbus Oil and Fuel Company has started to drill a test on the Luke Ashcraft farm. The location is 800 feet east of the producer on the Jacob Ashcraft farm.

HUGHES CONFIDENT OF GREAT VICTORY

Republican Nominee Will Start Out on His Second Campaign Tour Soon.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. — After a series of conferences with Republican and Progressive leaders upon his return here from a presidential campaign trip which took him into twenty-five states, Charles E. Hughes went to his summer home in Bridgehampton, L. I., to remain until his departure Sunday night or Monday morning on his second speech-making tour.

Mr. Hughes will rest at Bridgehampton but will also make a study of the campaign and will talk with political leaders, although he has no definite engagements.

Confident of Victory.

Discussing the tour just ended, the candidate said at his headquarters here:

"We had a most successful trip. Everywhere a great deal of interest had been shown and the cordiality of the people has been very marked. In this respect the situation in Maine is no different from that in other states. I feel there is every reason for confidence."

Mr. Hughes reiterated his conviction that the present Republican campaign management will be effective without a change in the personnel.

Confers With Party Chiefs.

A few hours before the time set for his departure for Bridgehampton, Mr. Hughes had a joint luncheon and conference at the home of William R. Wilcox the party's national chairman. Others who attended included Herbert Parsons, Everett Colby, George W. Perkins, Oscar Etrus and Cornelius Bliss, Jr.

It was reported that in view of the Republican success in Maine consideration was given to a plan of devoting less attention to the campaigns in concededly Republican states and centering activities almost entirely in states regarded as doubtful.

Sets Record on Tour.

Mr. Hughes's first campaign tour was one of the longest, in time and mileage, ever taken by a presidential nominee. Mr. Hughes left here on the night of August 1, and traveled thirty-nine days. His itinerary took him from Portland, Me., to San Diego, Cal.; from Canada to within sight of the Mexican border. He visited twenty-five states, spoke at all the chief centers of population in the country, exclusive of the South, and including the capitals of ten states, and traveled 11,494 miles by rail. In addition he averaged more than 40 miles a week by motor, about 2,500 miles, making the total mileage of his trip approximately 14,000 miles.

His trip was made over fifteen railroad systems. Since his departure from New York, Mr. Hughes has undergone almost every sort of experience that usually befalls a candidate, and many out of the ordinary. He has donned a miner's tugs at Butte and gone 2,000 feet down into the shafts, climbed mountains more than 12,000 feet high, attended state and county fairs, and spoke from almost every sort of platform, including the rostrum of the great Mormon tabernacle in Salt Lake City. He has made one hundred and forty-one speeches and has been photographed thousands of times, once at dinner, and several times with children in his arms.

McINTOSH FINED.

For being drunk in the streets and offering resistance when Police Officer Yates attempted to arrest him, a man giving the name of Bruce McIntosh was fined $11.60 in police court Thursday morning. Policeman Yates was forced to use his mace on McIntosh after bystanders refused to assist the officer.

MANY CONVERTS NOW TO WOMAN SUFFRAGE

At the Central West Virginia Fair by Miss MacAlarney This Week.

Miss Emma Lenore MacAlarney, who recently joined the forces of the West Virginia Equal Suffrage Association and is campaigning the state in the interest of the pending amendment, has been wonderfully successful in those parts of the state where she has already appeared. This gifted woman has been at the Central West Virginia Fair during the present week and has won many converts to the cause which she represents. She is a woman of most attractive personality and is so thoroughly in touch with her subject that wins her audience at once. During the present week the equal suffrage booth has been the center of attraction and the speeches of Miss MacAlarney have been received with great favor.

Miss MacAlarney is a native of Harrisburg, Pa., and is a daughter of a prominent member of the state bar. Her father was always a believer in the cause of equal suffrage, even when it was very unpopular to be identified with the movement. Miss MacAlarney graduated from Wellesley and since then has been actively engaged in educational and suffrage work. For a time she was a member of the faculty of the famous Horace Mann school in New York city. Frequently she was called upon to lecture before teachers' institutes and other learned bodies. During this period she found time to write two text books which are standard authorities on their subjects. One is on "English," and the other on "English Literature."

For the past two years Miss MacAlarney has been engaged in speaking and organizing in suffrage campaigns. Last year she worked throughout the campaign in her native state and participated in the noted tour of the Liberty Bell, which aroused great enthusiasm. This talented and effective worker and organizer will fill a long list of engagements in West Virginia before election. Her reputation has preceded her and the Morgantown headquarters has already been flooded with requests for her time. She is a distinct gain for the cause of women and will, doubtless, win many votes for the amendment.

Billie Burke, Star of "Gloria's Romance."

A program of elegance is presented at the Bijou today. The celebrated William Russell tops the list of stars, followed by Billie Burke, a pictorial news and a comedy.

Designing mothers, eager to carry their daughters to the man with the most money, with the result that unhappiness comes to all concerned, are depicted in their true light in the second of the William Russell series of Mutual star productions, "The Highest Bid." Mr. Russell has gained his best reputation among picture followers through the forceful enactment of roles demanding the rare combination of an attractive and magnetic personality, screen technique and dominant poise.

Miss Billie Burke appears in "The Murderer at Bay," chapter fifteen of "Gloria's Romance."

real life in the home country of the Arab.

Prominent in the cast will be Miss Trux as "Domini Enfield," William Jeffrey as "Boris," the young monk; Howard Gould as "Count Antecol," Albert Andruss as "Father Roublier," and many minor parts, together with a host of Arabs and their camels, horses, donkeys, goats, pigs, etc.

In the sensational sex problem film, "Where Are My Children?" now showing at the Robinson Grand, Walton, the principal character (Tyrona Power) is prosecutor of the pleas of his district. He loves children and it is the disappointment of his life that he has none of his own. With practitioners who destroy life at its very source he has no patience, and he deals with them in his official capacity without mercy. Finally he sends a notorious "society doctor" to prison for the same crime.

LOUISE HUFF, FAMOUS PLAYERS STAR IN PARAMOUNT PICTURES.

No wonder Louise Huff can melt an entire audience by her tears! As this scene from the Famous Players-Paramount production "The Reward of Patience" the dainty little player really sheds bona fide tears, which not even Theodore Roosevelt could brand as a bit of nature-faking! In the role of Patience she has just learned of the death of her father—hence the copious flow of brine.
